WHY NOT USE FIFTH STREET FIRE HOUSE AS MUNICIPAL HALL?

NICHOLL'S RIGID ULTIMATUM MAY FORCE CITY TO ACTION

Neither Proposition Offered by Nicholl Will Be Considered and Council Must Act Quickly to Find Quarters Before Expiration of Present Contract.

If the ultimatum of John H. Nicholl with regard to the rental of the Nicholl building on Washington avenue to the city as a municipal building remains as rigid as it was when delivered to the council in committee meeting this week, the council will have to sign a rental lease for a year or else it will not have whereon to lay its head. It has resolved itself to this: The council must pledge itself to ante up for an entire year or seek other quarters. The only alternative is to face Nicholl's threat to raise the monthly rental to a much higher figure.

The question of moving is now in the minds of the council, and it is said that neither of the propositions suggested by Nicholl will be considered. Pending the disposition of the city hall site selection matter which is now on the Appellate calendar, the city must make up its mind as to where it will lodge during the interim.

One suggestion has been made which seems about as feasible as anything could be under the present circumstances. During the past year, the city has erected a modern fireproof structure on Fifth street, between Macdonald and Bissell avenues. At present this great building contains a combination fire truck and houses seven men. It also houses the Building Inspector and the Sanitary Inspector. It has been suggested that the sleeping quarters of the men be given over to the council for a meeting place and that the lounging quarters of the firemen be converted into bed rooms for the men, inasmuch as the lounging rooms are seldom put to this purpose. There would be ample room on this floor for the council chambers and the daily sessions of the police court.

In the remaining parts of the building there is sufficient room to give temporary quarters to the other departments. It would probably be inconvenient, if not impossible, to quarter the city engineer and his staff of draughtsmen in this building, however.

In converting the fire hall into a temporary headquarters for the transaction of administrative affairs a greater number of persons could be served. Other advantages of an east-side city hall have been brought out in the city hall site controversy.

Another horn to the city hall dilemma which may be grasped by the council is the offer of Mrs. Smith, owner of the fine new two-story building at Twenty-third street and Macdonald avenue. Mrs. Smith offers the entire structure to the city for the price which is now being paid for the present city hall to the John Nicholl company. It is said that Mrs. Smith will even go further, and fit it up in first-class style if the city will take a suitable lease.

LONDON MARVELS AT ABILITY TO TEAR OFF THE "RAGGING"

The syncopated strains of raggy music which floated through the awning covered dance hall at Kozy Kove last evening caused Jack London to revert for an instant to the "Great Northern" dance hall at Nome and which as it lengthened became so fascinating that he soon found himself on the polished surface of the maple floor with his wife, Charmion, "ragging away."

BEAUMONT IS NOW HEAD OF DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER

FORMER NEWSPAPER MAN OF THIS CITY SWITCHES POLICY OF FRESNO HERALD FROM REPUBLICAN TO DEMOCRATIC.

After a three months departure from the Democratic field, which policy it had followed for two years under the management of N. J. Levinson, the Fresno Evening Herald yesterday abandoned the policy set by Editor J. V. Van Eaton, and will hereafter support the political aspirations of the Democratic national administration. M. J. Beaumont assumes full control, having taken over the Van Eaton interest, and announces that C. W. Fletcher, formerly of the San Jose Times-Star, will be editorial writer, and George S. Smith, well known as a newspaper advertising man in Fresno, will be secretary of the company.

Messrs. Beaumont and Van Eaton purchased the interests of Mr. Levinson in the Herald on June 30 last, and undertook an editorial policy in support of Theodore Roosevelt and Captain John D. Fredericks.

FAIR STORE READY FOR HOLIDAY TRADE

A number of carpenters are at work arranging new shelving on the interior of the Fair Department store at 327 Macdonald avenue in order to make ample accommodations for the large amount of Christmas goods which is soon to be shipped.

Kelly & Olney, proprietors of the store, are planning to carry a full and complete line of all kinds of Christmas novelties.

So the council is not entirely without resources. It is understood that the desire is to remain in the present quarters if possible, but the members do not propose to be coerced into signing a long time lease. Rather than do this they will move out bag and baggage and take their chances in finding a suitable habitation for the municipal employees elsewhere.

FAMOUS AUTHOR AND WIFE GIVEN ROYAL WELCOME

Big Feast in Honor of Distinguished Visitors Held at Kozy--Cruising Inner Harbor This Afternoon

Jack London, generally recognized as the foremost of American authors and descriptive writers, with Mrs. London were the guests of honor last evening at a reception held at Kozy Kove. More than three hundred persons were present during the evening to make the acquaintance of Mr. London and to discuss with him briefly with regard to his own opinion on his publications and to tell him that they had "read about every book he has ever written."

Frank Agar and Fred Dawson, managers of the beach resort were the hosts of the evening. Mr. Agar and Mr. London have been close personal friends for many years. With Mrs. London the noted author is cruising about the San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun bays, making their journey in a small but elegantly fitted yacht "The Roamer." London would not admit last night that his visit to the bay waters was a feature of his quest for fiction material.

The evening was featured by the serving of a dinner in the moonlight, amid the grove of eucalyptus trees. The characteristic viands of the beach party—clam chowder, salad, "dogs" and other forms of refreshment were served in abundance, but these, however nice, were only secondary to the interesting conversation and laughter between the honored visitor and his scores of admirers.

Has No Eccentricities.

JUDGE LINDSEY WILL TRY FIRST SOLICITING CASE

Henry O'Grady Arrested on Ferry Steamer San Pedro for Soliciting Business, is Out on $20 Bail.

Henry O'Grady of San Francisco came tonight for honors.

Last evening he had the honor of being arrested for having violated an ordinance in this city which makes it a misdemeanor to solicit any kind of trade while on a train or ferryboat, for which he was hauled to the police station and allowed to go free again by depositing $20 bail.

O'Grady was soliciting business on the Santa Fe ferry steamer San Pedro when placed under arrest by Railway Policemen Edwards and Paine.

His case has been set for 10:00 o'clock Monday before Police Judge Lindsey.

PSEUDO SLEUTH ARRESTED LAST EVENING AT HOME

J. C. Emerson For Whom County Authorities Have Been Searching Charged With Having Planted Dynamite for Extortion.

J. P. Emerson was arrested in Oakland last night on advices from Martinez, charged with burglary in having broken into a dynamite car at Bay Point, and also with having explosives in his possession. According to H. C. Brockaw, manager of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association at Stockton, Emerson has been extorting money by laying dynamite plants and reporting them. Emerson was arrested at Bay Point a week ago with a suit case containing dynamite, but was released upon his explanation that he had found it. Sheriff R. R. Veale of Martinez says Emerson is known

HOLIDAY WILL GO TO CAPITAL TO CLOSE DEAL

Will Place Stock Amounting to Approximately $10,000—Concern is Thriving and Proves Attractive to Convalescents.

Jack Holliday, secretary of the Foresters' Home association, leaves tomorrow for Sacramento where he will close a deal involving a large block of stock in the home association.

The home association recently acquired the holdings of the former Burke sanitarium at Santa Rosa. The place has been remodeled to an extent and is now one of the best institutions in the state. It is prospering each month, and the hotel is well filled for this season of the year. There are fifteen physicians in different localities who are sending their patients to the hospital there to remain during their convalescence.

HAD CASH BUT WOULD NOT PAY POOR LANDLADY

Ben Osborne Charged With Defrauding an Innkeeper Arrested by Sergeant Barry as he Was About to Swing Aboard Santa Fe Train.

With a suitcase in each hand and $55.00 in cash Ben Osborne, a Standard Oil employee, was arrested at the Santa Fe station last evening on a warrant charging him with defrauding an innkeeper.

Osborne was just about to board a train for Ferry Point when apprehended by Sergeant Barry who returned him to the jail and lodged him behind the bars.

to have purchased the suit case in Antioch. Emerson has been living at 568 Forty-sixth street, Oakland.

PHELAN RECEIVES ENDORSEMENT OF FRANKLIN K. LANE

JUDGE LINDSEY SETS RECORD FOR NUMBER OF CRIMINAL CASES

One of the most up-to-date police dockets in the state is that kept by Police Judge Lindsey who since his entering the judicial chair has heard in the neighborhood of 2,000 cases.

Judge Lindsey has filled three police dockets and has but a few pages left in his fourth, each docket containing 500 pages which brings the total close to the 2,000 mark.

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR SAYS FORMER MAYOR IS QUALIFIED

Says Aspirant to Senatorship is Rare Type of American Citizen Whose Attitude Toward Present Administration Should be Regarded by Every Voter.

James D. Phelan, Democratic candidate for the United States senatorship has been endorsed by Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior. In a letter to a friend in San Francisco Lane writes as follows:

"For over twenty-five years Jas. D. Phelan has been active and courageous in the fight for the people. He is a true Democrat. I first knew him when he became President of the Young Men's Democratic Club which made the fight against Buckley. When he became mayor he fulfilled the pledges to reform for the city which he made ten years before. He has never been false to a public interest. The character, which was the chief glory of his first administration, was the most progressive municipal constitution devised up to its time.

"Without Phelan's effort it is safe to say that San Francisco would not today enjoy a municipally owned street railway nor be constructing a municipal water system; it would have no established civil service, but teachers, policemen, firemen and other public servants would be subject to the spoils system, paying a portion of their salaries to a machine and courting the favor of continued employment from some politician. I never knew of a call being made on Phelan on behalf of his state or his city to which he did not generously respond in time, effort and money. Of how many of our wealthy young men can this be said?

"If California needs a man of courage to fight her battles in the Senate, a man of the rarest intellectual endowments as a debater, a man who will, we are sure, always look to matters from the public standpoint and stand in close sympathy with the far-sighted politics of President Wilson, she will elect Phelan to the Senate."

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ripley returned last evening from Sibley, Iowa, where they visited Mr. Ripley's mother.

WHAT IS HE AND WHO IS HE? LOUIS SLOAN ARRESTED AT 2:00 O'CLOCK IN MORNING, SAYS HE WAS LOOKING FOR POKER GAME—UNDER $1,000 BAIL.

The case of Louis Sloan charged with attempted burglary of the Shuler stationery store at Eighth street and Macdonald, and placed under $1,000 bail, today by Police Judge Lindsey, is proving a mystery to the police.

Is he a professional crook or a sonnambulist?

That seems to be the question which is puzzling the local authorities.

When brought before Police Judge Lindsey today for his preliminary hearing Sloan stated that there must be some mistake in regard to his being charged with attempted burglary, as he had no intentions of robbing the store.

"I have been employed by the Shattuck-Eddinger contracting firm for the past few months," stated Sloan to the judge, "and on Wednesday when we received our checks started on a little cruise about the town. While making our rounds we were informed in one place that if we would drop around some time that evening in the vicinity of Eighth street and Macdonald avenue

"To Observations Which Ourselves We Make, We Grow More Partial, for the Observer's Sake."

SIT TIGHT! DON'T ROCK THE BOAT!

Sit tight! Don't rock the boat! That's the watchword today. That's the first duty of every American at this moment. That's what this country needs to keep it straight and safe and true to its course—absolutely all it needs.

Business conditions are sound. We have one of the greatest grain crops in history. Its value has already greatly advanced. We have a sound financial system, backed by the greatest store of gold in the world. Our banks are solid, safe. There is nothing the matter with the United States.

War will mean an unprecedented demand for supplies. Experts declare American business will feel a great impetus. While other nations destroy, this country will produce. While other nations are armed camps, this country will be a farm, a factory, a forge. Trade extension is predicted in all directions. The immediate future is plain.

The national administration is acting wisely, promptly. The sum of $500,000,000 is available, under the Aldrich-Vreeland act, for an emergency. The organization of the reserve board will soon be complete. This will enable us to deal more effectively with the outflow of gold. Plans are perfecting to permit American registry of foreign vessels. This will protect and develop our commerce.

We are preparing to maintain strict neutrality. Questions may arise with foreign nations as to what constitutes contraband. Such questions cannot conceivably involve us in difficulties. They will be settled by the ordinary process. The general principles of neutrality and neutral commerce are plain. The United States will adhere rigorously to them. Friendly intercourse, as far as circumstances permit will be its rule and its procedure.

Stock exchanges have closed—a wise precaution. This country cannot be the dumping ground of the whole body of securities that war-torn Europe is anxious to convert into money. The closing is temporary. Elsewhere there is no prospect of interference with the orderly process of American business. Stable conditions are here. All we have to do is to keep them stable.

The administration has decided to appeal officially to the public to help maintain existing satisfactory conditions. The public cannot fail to respond. The only danger is one which it may create itself. Its course is simple. All it has to do is to sit tight, to do nothing to disrupt the fortunate condition in which this country happily finds itself.

Don't rock the boat—that's the central idea! The swell from the great battleship, "Europe," will be felt. But it will not hurt us. It need not even break over the sides. There's nothing the matter with the boat that we are in. Straight and strong, well-seamed, well-caulked, well-timbered, with reasonable guidance it will bear us safely and prosperously through.

Sit tight! Don't rock the boat! Keep its head well up against the sea! Don't let it get into the trough of the waves! Let every man realize that at this moment calm confidence and calm thankfulness are the first duty. They are absolutely justified by the favorite situation in which we find ourselves. They are the certain guarantee of a continuance of those conditions. —Chicago Herald.

No, George Washington and Abe Lincoln did not smoke cigarettes, as there were no such smokes in their days. They might have smoked them if there had been, which however, does not make the habit and moredelectable. George Washington did manufacture 200 barrels of whiskey on his farm each year, and Lincoln, from all accounts, told some more or less tough man stories. Because a man is a great and good man is no sign he is faultless. In fact, our very best men have had some very grave faults, almost without exception. There never was but one perfect man, and he was crucified.

The characteristics of most writers, or else these characteristics are not manifested during his first acquaintance. He is simply Jack London. Having seen and talked with London, one can understand that the success of his writings is due largely to the fact that his own personality and his own feelings are made a part.

Many of London's characters, in fact, all of his leading characters are taken out of real life. For almost an hour last night, standing amidst a group of prominent city officials and representative business men he discussed the career of Alec McLaren the "Sea Wolf." McLaren's death, it will be remembered, occurred but recently. Beyond the roughness and resolute determination of the outer man, London declared, there was the man of the heart—the man whose hand always dived into his pocket for the brother who was down and almost out. He spoke of the many times during his sea voyages that McLaren had been left at South Sea Island ports to die as a hopeless consumptive, and how, each time he succeeded in again making his ship. His death occurred in a harbor off Canada, to which country McLaren had been virtually exiled. Up to the last he made effort to secure the necessary papers to admit him to the United States seaboard.

Talks of Characters.

Other well known characters, from his best known stories, such as John Barleycorn, Martin Eden, The Valley of the Moon and others, were discussed. He told of the success of James Bosworth, who has undertaken the work of immortalizing London's greatest men and women in the films. It was twelve years ago when Bosworth was in New York that London paid a visit to the theatre. Informed that London was present, Bosworth, who had read the story "The Sea Wolf" of which the first edition was in circulation, insisted that London be escorted to his dressing room. After a brief greeting Bosworth asked permission of London to dramatize his works and be the leading man in the productions. The matter was considered by London, who gladly consented, and since that time London and Bosworth have been closely associated. The author paid a tribute to the actor as a man off the stage as well as on.

With the coming of the motion picture the keen insight of the two men at once recognized its possibilities and during the past few years all of the London stories have been dramatized for the films, and Bosworth has played the leading parts.

Asked as to his opinion of his own works, as to which has proved the biggest literary and financial success London frankly stated that he did not know.

Of the several discussions carried on, that which stayed close to "Jack London" himself was held the most interesting.

"When I first entered the literary game as a profession," said London, "it did not take me long to discover my first serious fault. I generally started a book with four characters and had all four killed before the conclusion of the first chapter. Of course, like most writers, I thought the publishers who returned my manuscripts were sapheads. A few years of experience, however, showed me that their judgement and their wisdom in these matters could be relied upon. 'The Sea Wolf' might be considered my first actual literary triumph. Were I to write that story over there are several changes I would make and several actual experiences of sea-faring life that I would incorporate.

"I do not doubt but those of you who have read some of my stories have been disappointed, especially with the ending of some of them. Martin Eden, for instance. Had I returned Mr. Eden to the affections of his first love, the story would have then and there drifted into the commonplace.

"In the production of 'An Odyssey of the North,'" said Mr. London, "I do not believe Mr. Bosworth was as strong as in other plays, and far less stronger than in the role of Wolf Larsen. The experiences through which I went in the collection of material for this story shall outlive those, in my own mind of any I have ever had.

"The characters in this story are almost without exception taken from the real life of the frozen north. Such men live there, and they frequently enter the port of San Francisco on trips for supplies. The life of the Alaskan—native and by custom—is well portrayed in the motion picture film of the story.

"Why did I abandon the 'Snark' on my trip around the world several years ago? For the simple reason that the physicians abandoned me. They gave me up, so I gave up the 'Snark.' Mrs. London was more broken up about the sudden climax of the journey than I was, and I was a little disturbed myself. But my physical ailments were such at the time that I didn't think much about the journey.

Tells of "Snark" Cruise.

"I was suffering with only five serious ailments on this journey. Two of the ailments with which I was afflicted were incurable, according to the physicians, the third was of a nature that the physicians could not diagnose, cases of the fourth had been cured spontaneously and the fifth was the general resume and effect of the other four. It was only a matter of three or four weeks before I was sufficiently strong to travel, but I could not think of resuming the journey. It was in Australia that we gave up the trip, and shortly afterwards we sailed for the states in a steamer.

London is the same London you read about and the same London whose pictures you see. While not characterized by any of the many eccentricities with which authors are usually afflicted, he stands out among men. He is a big man. His light suit, negligee shirt and white, string tie are mounted with a full and square-jawed beaming face, topped off with an abundance of curly hair. He has the handshake that is an essential to the success of the man who meets people, and London meets lots of people. He did not manifest a single indication of being bored by the constant taps on the shoulder, calling him to meet Mister, Mrs. or Miss-and-so. In fact, he seemed to enjoy it. He did enjoy it.

Mrs. London Joins Party.

It was impossible for Mrs. London to join the party early in the evening. She had suffered a slight indisposition and early in the afternoon she had retired to her cabin on the "Roamer." The disappointment of the throng who had anticipated the cultivation of Mrs. London's acquaintance with that same keen anticipation that beamed on their faces as they lined up to meet her writer husband, was atoned for later in the evening when the sound of the music proved too appealing, and Mrs. London, stepped into a rowboat and pulled in for the shore. She joined her husband and was immediately in the center of attraction.

Mrs. London is a woman of extraordinary ability and cleverness, as a speaker and a writer. The freedom with which she became acquainted with the many women present, and the smart repartee with which she met the good humored jests of the admiring men made her an unqualified favorite.

London has written of Richmond, but that was long before Richmond existed. It was back in 1891, twenty-three years ago that London

OAKLAND UNIFORM RANK TO GIVE DEMONSTRATION

SONS OF ST. GEORGE MEET AND EXTEND INVITATION TO ALBION LODGE OF OAKLAND TO VISIT OUT HERE NEXT WEEK. WHIST AND STAG PARTIES PLANNED.

Visitors from San Francisco, Oakland and Alameda lodges of the Sons of St. George were present last night at a meeting held by the members of Gladstone lodge of this city at Barnaman hall on 19th street. The future social calendar of the lodge was discussed, and several important attractions were slated.

On Thursday evening of next week, the regular meeting night the members of the Knights Uniform rank of Albion lodge of Oakland will be present to give a demonstration of their drill work. This team is considered one of the best drilled fraternal organizations in the state and a treat is anticipated in their excellent work.

A whist party will be given by the lodge on the evening of October 29. A committee composed of John Arnold, John Colclough and Frank Roberts has charge of this affair.

Arrangements are being perfected for a stag party to be given by the lodge on the evening of November fifth and on this occasion all natives of Great Britain, or descendants of the British will be invited.

wrote a short story which embodied the life of the old Chinese Shrimp Camp. This story was published in the Youth's Companion. City Councilman G. A. Follett, in an informal after dinner talk remarked that "every time he saw the picture of Jack London, or read his name, it reminded him of a shrimp camp."

London has never visited Richmond, or this section in fact, since that time, although a good part of his time has been spent in the bay cities and the upper valley towns gathering material for his stories. He expressed surprise that a town of this size and this character should have "sprung up" in so comparatively short a time.

Those seated at the tables were the following: Mrs. E. M. Schenkel, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Hall, G. A. Follett, Mr. and Mrs. Jack London, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neville, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dawson, Miss Beth Wiley, of Berkeley, who is a cousin to Mrs. London, Miss R. Arlington, Mrs. Anna Ismert Bacon, E. R. Lussell, of Martinez, Charles O'Callaghan, Edmund Nelson, Ernest Rodden, Judge William Lindsey, Mayor Garrard, I. R. Vaughn and others.

In connection with the visit of Mr. and Mrs. London, let it be said that Richmond taught Jack London to dance. That is, they taught him to dance in the liberal interpretation of the term. They taught him to rag. His chiefest instructors were his wife, and his cousin, Miss Beth Wiley, of Berkeley.

that we would be able to edge into a poker game."

At this juncture he was interrupted by the judge who asked him if he did not know that all the gambling places were closed.

"I am well aware of that," stated Sloan, "but this one is running secretly."

"Two o'clock is a very unfavorable time to start prowling around back doors looking for a poker game is it not?" queried Judge Lindsey, to which Sloan acknowledged, "that it was."

E. E. Shuler, proprietor of the stationery store who swore to the complaint charging Sloan with attempted burglary, tells almost the same story as the suspected burglar in that he was aroused from his bed at the rear of the building by someone fumbling with the lock, who upon gaining access to the building drew the wooden bar on the door back into place.

"When I confronted him," stated Shuler, "he made no effort to break away, and began to apologize. I, thinking that the man might become ugly, called for the police."

Ward McCracken, a clerk in the employ of the W. S. McCracken furnishing store, on the west side, stated to the authorities today that Sloan purchased several articles of clothing from him on Wednesday afternoon for which he gave a check on the Shattuck-Eddinger company.

McCracken was rather puzzled by the fact that Sloan did not wait for his change amounting to $31.50 but walked out saying that he would return later and get it.

And meanwhile Sloan who worked in the Municipal tunnel by day and rambled around under sonambulist influences at night is quietly entrenched behind the bars of the city jail waiting further developments in his case which the police are endeavoring to unravel.

Women of the Church Arrange Pleasant Reception for Retiring Pastor and Elaborate Program is Given.

Several hundred persons were present at the Christian church last evening when a reception was given by the women of the church in honor of Rev. Charles A. Young who has resigned his pastorate to head the flock of a Berkeley church. Because of the relationship existing between Rev. Mr. Young and the members of the church and the conditions on which the well known pastor leaves this charge, the reception was no regarded as a "farewell," but merely as a "Good bye."

A splendid program was given and refreshments were served in conclusion. The following numbers were rendered: Piano solo, Mrs. Helen Philpott; violin solo, Richard Winfree; vocal solo, Mrs. E. M. Ferguson; reading, Mrs. Stanley; vocal solo, Miss Adele Downing; reading, Mrs. Kathryn Johns; vocal solo, Miss Maurine Boone; remarks, J. E. Zumwalt.

JAMES D. PHELAN, WHILE NOT CAMPAIGNING, PERSONALLY DIRECTS IRRIGATION OF A FIFTY-ACRE TRACT NEAR CHICO WITH RESULT THAT GLADDENS HEARTS OF THE CALIFORNIA FARMERS.

The adaptability of Sacramento valley soil and climate to the growing of rice on a commercially profitable scale has been demonstrated as a result of an experiment in rice culture conducted by former Mayor James D. Phelan of San Francisco on his 8,000 acre ranch on the Sacramento river three miles west of Chico.

Early this year Phelan decided to make the experiment and planted 50 acres in rice. Rice cultivation requires flooding the land to a depth of several inches and keeping it submerged for 120 days before draining off the water. The proximity of the Sacramento river afforded abundant means for meeting this requirement. For four months the 50 acres were kept under water. That was easy. Whether soil and climate would prove suitable for the production of the cereal was a question. Phelan followed the progress of the experiment with the keenest interest. His faith in its success never wavered.

There is standing today on the 50 acres awaiting the harvest a crop of high grade rice, presenting a sight to gladden the heart of a farmer. It is estimated that the experimental crop will yield at least 40 bags per acre. So enthusiastic is Phelan over the success of the venture that he is planning to plant 3,000 acres in rice next year.

The experiment is expected to prove the source of increased prosperity for the agricultural interests around Chico and to other regions along the river which may avail themselves of the possibilities in rice culture demonstrated by the Phelan experiment. Phelan's ranch is part of the famous old Reavis Rancho. He is averse to the policy of large agricultural holdings, however, and contemplates disposing of the vast acreage in small farms.

RICHMOND CLUB BAZAAR PLANS ARE COMPLETED

Final Arrangements Made For the Biggest Event of This Character Ever Held in the City—Doll Buggy Parade to Be a Feature.

As the days of the Richmond club bazaar approach the interest in the event becomes more general. The club women are holding frequent sessions for the purpose of settling the final details afloat, and at each meeting some additional suggestions of value are made.

Mrs. C. S. Gibson will have charge of the program. Mrs. C. R. Blake will have charge of the committee which will dedicate the hall. It is believed that the hall will be completed by the dates for the fair, October 8 and 9, or at least nearly so. A half hundred little misses of this city will participate. The following women have the several committees in hand:

Mrs. H. W. Luncford, fancy work booth; Mrs. W. G. Braine, country store booth; Mrs. Jas. T. Nabrett, lemonade booth; Miss Helen Smith, candy booth; Mrs. Thayer, apron and cap booth; Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, rag rug booth; Mrs. Frank Smith, refreshment booth; Mrs. Smedley, bakery booth; Mrs. W. W. Felch, fortune telling booth; and Miss Dohrman, waffle kitchen. The rag rug booth which will be directed by Mrs. Zimmerman will contain a unique display of forty different rag rugs.

It is not polite, but when a thin, meek man walks along by the side of a big, fat, aggressive looking wife, everyone laughs.

The dues are raised more frequently than they are reduced.

ANOTHER RICHMOND CASE

It Proves That There's a Way Out for Many Suffering Richmond Folks.

Just another report of a case in Richmond. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Richmond with Doan's Kidney Pills.

"One of my family had kidney complaint for years and spent hundreds of dollars trying to find relief," says Mrs. Mary C. Sutherland, of 1829 Nevin Avenue, Richmond. "Finally, Doan's Kidney Pills were used and they brought great benefit. It was remarkable how Doan's Kidney Pills so thoroughly relieved this case, after other remedies had utterly failed."

Price 50¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Sutherland recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

RICHMOND HIGH VS. CENTERVILLE TOMORROW P. M.

Richmond and Centerville High schools battle in a rugby contest tomorrow afternoon. There is much speculation as to which school has the better team. Despite the defeats administered the locals by Concord and by Livermore, Captain Brown is still confident of a victorious season. Every spare minute is spent in rigid practice on the Nicholl property opposite the high school.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

East less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out Kidneys—
Drink plenty water

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

HEADACHE STOPS, NEURALGIA GONE

Dr. James' Headache Powders give instant relief—Cost dime a package.

Nerve-racking, splitting or dull, throbbing headaches yield in just a few moments to Dr. James' Headache Powders which cost only 10 cents a package at any drug store. It's the quickest, surest headache relief in the whole world. Don't suffer! Relieve the agony and distress now! You can. Millions of men and women have found that headache and neuralgia misery is needless. Get what you ask for.

"TONY" SILVA LEAVES FOR HIS PORTUGAL HOME

With the avowed intention of joining the ranks of the Portuguese army "Tony" Silva, one of the best known barbers of this city packed his shaving and hair cutting implements into his suitcase with his personal belongings last night and has left for his native land. He left on an east bound Santa Fe train. Silva has been informed that the Portuguese government intends to mobilize and as Tony puts it, he wants to be "among those present."

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try This! Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, it is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Adv.

PASSPORTS OF ALL AMERICANS ARE RECOGNIZED

Dispatches From Paris, Berlin and Petrograd Show That All U. S.
Citizens Are Protected.

WASHINGTON, October 2.—The State Department today issued a statement supplementary to a previous notice on the subject of reciting the fact that it had received no information to the effect that the authorities of Great Britain, France or other allied countries had refused to recognize the American passports of naturalized American citizens.

Inquirers are being informed by the department that the extent to which American passports held by naturalized citizens of this country are recognized depends largely upon whether the native country of such a citizen has concluded a treaty of naturalization with the United States though no distinction is made in the laws of the United States between native and naturalized American citizens, so far as their right to protection is concerned.

Naturalization treaties exist between the United States and Austria-Hungary, Denmark, the German states, Great Britain, Norway and Sweden.

REYNOLDS GIRL IS IMPROVING

It was announced this morning that little Camille Reynolds, who was severely bitten on the hand by an infuriated ape at the Pythian Carnival in this city a week ago, is rapidly improving. She is about with her playmates once more and the bloodpoisoning which resulted from the bite has almost entirely disappeared. The little miss was attended by Dr. H. L. Carpenter. No further complications are expected.
